

NOW BANISH THE BOTTLES

SNP follows the Mail's lead by committing to system to reduce litter

Scotland's SNP government has committed to introducing a deposit return scheme for plastic bottles, following the lead of the Mail's campaign. The party's manifesto states that it will introduce a system to reduce litter and improve recycling.

BANISH THE BOTTLES

Scottish Daily Mail

The SNP's commitment to a deposit return scheme for plastic bottles is a significant step towards reducing litter and improving recycling in Scotland. The party's manifesto states that it will introduce a system to reduce litter and improve recycling.

Simple plan to help clean up country and recycle containers

HOW DEPOSIT RETURN SCHEMES WORK

A deposit return scheme works by charging a small deposit on each container. When the container is returned, the deposit is refunded. This encourages people to return containers and ensures they are recycled.

Scrapped discarded bottles are a sight on Scotland's landscape

A SMALL PRICE TO PAY FOR PUTTING END TO CHOKING PILES OF RUBBISH

THEY are opposed to the idea of a deposit return scheme for plastic bottles, which means of course, that they will be asked to pay a small price to put the end to choking piles of rubbish.

COMMENTARY BY JOHN MATHIAS

It is a small price to pay for putting the end to choking piles of rubbish. The idea of a deposit return scheme for plastic bottles is a simple and effective way to reduce litter and improve recycling.

How campaign has gathered pace and become unstoppable

BANISH THE BOTTLES February 3, 2007	HOLYROOD TO PROBE BOTTLE DEPOSIT PLAN February 4, 2007	OKA OKA BACKS BOTTLES February 5, 2007	Campaign for bottles backed by all parties February 6, 2007	SCOTS BACK BOTTLE PLAN February 7, 2007	SNP backs plan February 8, 2007	MSPs call for action on deposit scheme to clean up the country February 9, 2007	Ministers launch new bid to back bottle plan February 10, 2007
-----------------------------------------------	------------------------------------------------------------------	--------------------------------------------------	-----------------------------------------------------------------------	---------------------------------------------------	-------------------------------------------	-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	--------------------------------------------------------------------------

The campaign has gathered pace and become unstoppable. It has now become a national movement, with support from all major parties and the public. The SNP's commitment to the scheme is a significant step towards reducing litter and improving recycling in Scotland.